FAVORITES FAIL BACKERS

ALL OF THE PUBLIC CHOICES BEATEN AT LATONIA YESTERDAY.

Some of Them Meet with Mishaps and Have Satisfactory Excuses—Barney Schreiber Misses Another Opportunity.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—The backers of favorites were put to complete rout this afternoon at Latonia, as six first choices sustained defeat. It was the most disastrous day, in a speculative way, that race-goers have experienced since the current meeting began. In several races the defeats of the favorites came as the result of some mishap which was exasperating. The chief incident of the afternoon was the leaving of Joe Rose at the post in the fifth race, those closely watching the race, however, at the post it appeared that the arm of the barrier attached to the outer rail failed to release itself, thereby preventing Joe Rose from starting. To others it seemed that the horse was unprepared and had the barrier in his mouth when Holman gave the order to go. Joe Rose, which had been purchased yesterday by H. G. Bedwell, was accorded especially heavy backing. The Bedwell representative figured prominently in the last three races. Madman won the fourth race, the feature of the program, from Charlie Eastman. In the closing race, another one of Bedwell's recent acquisitions failed by a narrow margin, Hans leading him to the finish. The most serious demonstration of the meeting followed the finish, the crowd congregating about the stand and shouting for Bellevue in the belief that the judges might be influenced to reverse the placing. The demonstration was uncalculated for as Hans won by a good head. Bedwell thought that the winner was entered too cheaply at $600 and promptly raised him to $1,200, at which figure the colt became his property.

Barney Schreiber's Banives, running to his best form, defeated an ordinary band of youngsters in the second race. His owner again neglected an opportunity to win a profitable wager by his failure to back the colt. Schreiber did attempt a coup in the third race on Lubin. The horse encouraged his backers greatly by going into what appeared a safe lead at the stretch turn, but Quagga came with a great rush at the end and won off. Lubin retaining second place. The concrete work, formerly a good race, was also heavily backed, but she failed to become a serious contender.

Fifteen maidens met in the opener, and James Griffin took down the first purse that has rewarded him since his return from California, when Dextrine came home before the poorly handled and frequently interfered with Tannie.

Frank Respass added to his list of racers this afternoon by the purchase of Plume from T. P. Hayes. Benny Jacobs bought Orlando from T. Hatfield and will race him at Fort Erie.

Cantel, starting for the first time, was injured in the second race by being crowded into the fence. The Holle and Gerst strings departed for the Empire City track today. The horses of G. H. Marlman, G. W. J. Rissell, M. Burton and John Marklein left for Fort Erie.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CHURCHILL DOWNS.

Matt Winn Tells of Them and Also Makes Interesting Statement Concerning Juarez Track.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—Matt J. Winn, in discussing the fall meeting at Churchill Downs, had this to say: "I have been forward to spend the fall fall. The spring meeting at Churchill Downs was the greatest in the history of the sport in Kentucky. Everywhere the friends of racing are still talking about it. I heard of it in New York."

"The public is not aware that many costly improvements have been made at Churchill Downs since the races. The clubhouse and grandstand have been repainted and a new main entrance has been built. This includes a canopy from the place where the street cars stop to the grandstand. New ticket offices have been built. Other improvements have also been made looking to the comfort of patrons of the club."

Colonel Winn incidentally remarked that although all memberships in the Louisville Jockey Club had expired, such memberships will be recognized this fall, as was done this spring. The membership list is limited to 200, and the present members will be accorded first chance to renew memberships in 1910.

Relative to the opening of the Juarez meeting, Colonel Winn made this statement:

"Grainger & Co., of Louisville, have the contract to furnish the steel work for the grandstand, Stevens & Co., of Chicago, will put up the steel work, including the concrete work. James Murray, of the firm of D. X. Murphy & Co., of Louisville, is now at Juarez superintending the work in general. About 400 men are at work on the plant. It is positive that everything will be ready by Thanksgiving Day. The El Paso Street Railway Company will build double tracks to the race track, and the time from El Paso to the course will be ten minutes. "The track will be a mile and an eighth and it will be a duplicate of the Santa Anita course. The soil is such that the course will be fast. We will not build a hotel at the track this season, as planned, but will do so later. El Paso has four or five good hotels. Juarez will see the greatest racing ever given on a foreign track by Americans."

HILDRETH ENGAGES JOCKEY POWERS.

New York, July 2.—S. C. Hildreth has engaged Vincent Powers to do most of the riding for his stable and Powers will pilot Fitz Herbert in the Lawrence Realization, when the Ethelbert colt meets the fleet-footed Hillarous. When Hildreth starts two horses in a race he will get Dugan to help Powers out whenever the services of that lad are available. Hildreth is especially partial to Dugan's riding, but he could not secure the lad, August Belmont having acquired a prior claim.

Powers came east to ride Thomas C. McDowell's mare, King's Daughter, in the Suburban. He brought an excellent reputation out of the west, and exacting eastern critics agree that he has made good. Powers is a young man of considerable intelligence and much energy. He is alert at the post, he understands pace and he finishes stoutly.

UNCLE AGAIN IN TRAINING.

New York, July 2.—Uncle, the four-year-old chestnut colt by Star Shoot—The Niece, for which S. C. Hildreth paid John E. Madden $20,000 as a two-year-old, is once more in training at Sheepshead Bay after having been on the shelf almost continuously since his transfer to Hildreth. Uncle won several races for Hildreth during the fall following his purchase, then fell a victim to foot trouble on being taken to California for a winter campaign. Several times in the interim Hildreth has almost got Uncle up to a race, only to have him fall lame at the last moment.

JOCKEY MILLER GETS LICENSE.

London, Eng., July 2.—Walter Miller, the former champion American jockey, today received a license to ride from the English Jockey Club and will immediately be seen in the saddle on the English tracks. He has kept in condition by exercising horses since his arrival in England.

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE CONEY ISLAND JOCKEY CLUB STAKES

The Coney Island Jockey Club Stakes is the race established by the Coney Island Jockey Club to take the place of the American Derby in American racing, after Mayor Carter H. Harrison had taken the measures that resulted in the abandonment of racing at Washington Park. Since it was first run in 1907 its history is necessarily of the brief order and it is to be contested for the third time this afternoon. In its first two years of running it was a guaranteed race of $25,000, with a further contingency of $10,000 if its winner also carried off the Tidal Stakes and Lawrence Realization. This year it is only of the value of $2,500 and the chance to win that extra $10,000 has gone glimmering. The idea at the bottom of the foundation of this race was distinctly creditable to the Coney Island Jockey Club and it will be surprising if the race is not restored to something like its former dignity within the next year or two. The record of the event is as follows:

Year.	First.	Jockeys.	Wt.	Second.	Wt.	Third.	Wt.	Val.	Time.
1907	Frank Gill	W. Knapp	126	Montgomery	126	Salvidere	113	$19,725	2:33 1/4
1908	Fair Play	Notter	126	Hessian	116	King James	116	19,725	2:31 1/4

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE GREAT TRIAL STAKES

Heretofore the Great Trial has been as distinctly the Coney Island Jockey Club's most valuable fixture for two-year-olds of its summer meetings. Its guaranteed value last year was $25,000. This year it is of just one-tenth of that goodly sum. It is not so old as the Futurity, having first been run in 1891, when it fell to that remarkable two-year-old, His Highness. After him, a succession of great two-year-olds won the Great Trial, among them being such noble examples of the thoroughbred as Domino, Waltzer, Handspring, Hamburg, Jean Beraud, David Garrick, Commando, Blue Girl, Irish Lad, Collin and Sir Martin, a collection of better horses being almost impossible of selection. The record of the Great Trial Stakes is as follows:

Year.	First.	Jockeys.	Wt.	Second.	Wt.	Third.	Wt.	Val.	Time.
1891	His Highness	Bergen	118	Dagonet	115	Victor	118	$22,095	1:12 1/4

NO LICENSE FOR PADUCAH MEETING.

Kentucky State Racing Commission Turns Down Application Filed with It.

Lexington, Ky., July 2.—The Kentucky State Racing Commission, with Messrs. E. F. Clay, Milton Young, Charles F. Grainger, Louis des Cognets and Secretary Rouse present, met here today and refused to grant the application of the Paducah Fair Association for a license to give twenty-one days of racing, beginning July 8 at Paducah. The commission was addressed in person by Harry White, general manager of the proposed meeting. Mr. White read the application, which was signed by Ben Weille, president, and Rodney Davis, secretary of the Paducah Fair Association. The application was dated June 28 and named Frank J. Bryan as presiding judge, James Milton, starting clerk, George Ditch as clerk of the scales, and Harry White, racing secretary, handicapper and general manager. Mr. White explained to the commission that the association would give five races of the total value of $1,000 daily. He was asked what form of betting was intended of the scales, and he could not say whether or not bookmakers would be in line.

The commission then called Mr. White's attention to that section of the law creating the State Racing Commission which requires that applicants for dates must be made thirty days in advance of the first day of the proposed meeting and members of the commission assigned as reason for the denying of the license the fact that application had not been made at the proper time. Mr. White's attention was further directed to a section of the law which gives to every regularly organized fair association in the state the right to conduct six days' racing annually without license or sanction from the commission.

His communication was received from R. L. Thomas stating that jockey Shilling had jumped his contract with him and had entered the employ of Irving H. Wheatcroft. Mr. Thomas asked that the commission rule upon Shilling's right to leave his employ and Mr. Wheatcroft's right to his services under the circumstances. Secretary Rouse was directed to notify all parties to make answer at a meeting of the commission to be held Wednesday, September 8.

SCHREIBER WAS ADVISED NOT TO BET.

His Trainer Entertained Poor Opinion of Dr. Waldo Briggs, Winner at 200 to 1.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—The victory of Barney Schreiber's Dr. Waldo Briggs at 200 to 1 at Latonia yesterday was still a fruitful topic of discussion when race-goers gathered at the track today. It transpires that one individual, a veteran race player of this city, pulled down $1,000 on an investment of $7, some of the money being played for place and show. George North was stung about the hardest of any of the bookies, losing $500 to the race. A few other bettors had tickets calling for $400 to $2, and there was more play for the place and to show.

The maddest man at the track was Barney Schreiber, for he did not bet a dime on his horse, and did bet $200 on Richard Reed. He just raved after it was all over, and when some one approached him, he would say, "Feel my head; I'm going crazy."

Why he did not bet is best told by Barney: "Those trainers of mine have got me going, there is no use talking about it. I named the colt after Dr. Briggs, of St. Louis, a fine gentleman and a good doctor. He examined me a few years ago and declined to accept a fee, and I said at the time I would name the best colt on the farm after him. I thought I did at the time, but the trainers never got this one to the post as a two-year-old. "No account," was the report handed to me, and they did not want me to take him away from the farm. Sell him for a buggy horse was the advice they gave me. But I got them to take him along, and today I saw him breed a quarter in 22 1/2, but I was told not to bet, as he would be sure to stop."

VANDERBILT'S WINNINGS FOR YEAR $160,400.

Paris, France, July 2.—W. K. Vanderbilt heads the list of winning owners on the French turf since the racing season opened on March 12 last, his horses having won $160,400 up to June 30. Maurice Rothschild comes next with a total of $121,200. Baron de Rothschild's horse, Vordun, was the greatest single winner, $110,000, including the $75,000 Grand Prix. Mr. Vanderbilt's Oversight comes next with $61,000 to his credit.

The Prix Cote d'Or at Engelen today was won by T. P. Thorne's The Snob. Mr. Thorne's Bon ran in the Prix Forze, but did not get a place. Nash Turner started Villagiatore and W. K. Vanderbilt Lillian in the Prix Charolais, but neither horse showed. In the Prix Bourgeois Turner's Don Quichotte III, and J. E. Widener's Sheriff Williams were among the starters, but neither secured a place.

SELLING PLATERS GIVEN CHANCE TO WIN.

Little Class to Yesterday's Racing at Hamilton—Big Run-up Follows Victory of Little Osage.

Hamilton, Ont., July 2.—Today was an off day at Hamilton. The program was made up of six races, the conditions of which were framed with the idea of giving the poorer class of horses an opportunity of winning. The fields were evenly matched, however, and in a majority of instances keen contests resulted. Light showers fell during the afternoon, but they in no way interfered with the racing and the track remained fast.

P. T. Chish's Canadian Derby candidate, Plute, was given his final preparation for that stake in the third race, a six-furlongs dash that brought out some fair sprinters. Plute carried top weight of 114 pounds, and was ridden by Preston, who will have the mount on him in the Derby. In the early stages Plute dropped out of the running, but in the final quarter he closed courageously and at the end finished lapped on Personal. The latter, showing keen speed at all stages, essayed to make a runaway affair of the race. Plute was worked out a mile in a trifle under 1:40.

Many stables left this morning for Fort Erie, to be on hand for the opening on Monday. A special was made up of six cars and carried most of the big stakes that have taken part in the meeting. Many more will leave in the morning, the horsemen being anxious to get settled in the new quarters.

The first big run-up of the meeting came after Little Osage had galloped home an easy winner in the fifth race. Little Osage made his opposition look cheap and won in a romp. He was entered to be sold for $600, but was carried up to $1,400 by Guy Gray, son of old "Uncle Jimmie Gray." J. W. Bauer, owner of Little Osage, protected his horse and bought him in at $1,405.

John Dymont today purchased of William Garth the steeplechase mare, Wild Refrain. The latter was badly cut down in her last race. She is a well-bred mare and Dymont purchased her with the idea of breeding a King's Plate winner from her.

Jockey Guy Burns arrived from New York this morning and will ride on the Canadian circuit for the balance of the season as a free lance.

R. J. Walden will ship his stable to the Walden farm at Middleburg, Md., on Monday to rest up his horses until the opening of the fall meeting at Pimlico.

TUESDAY TO BE AN OFF DAY.

New York Race-Goers to Have Five Days of the Sport Next Week.

New York, July 2.—Next week will again see five days of racing at Sheepshead Bay. Tuesday will be the off day. When the season began on the metropolitan tracks three days a week were considered good enough, but the Jockey Club promised to add extra days if the patronage justified it. The patronage has justified it, and Mr. Belmont and his associates have made good their promise. There is no mistaking the popularity of the sport as now conducted. The week-day crowd comes favorably from the open betting ring regime, the enthusiasm is just as great and the sport just as thoroughly enjoyed. With Empire City following with six days a week, and a full four-week's sport at Saratoga, the game promises to be as successful as in any previous year. Furthermore, R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s recent purchase of twenty yearlings, the get of Ogden, Planudes and Yankee, is regarded not only as the biggest transaction of its kind in years, but as an exceedingly good sign of the times. The terms were private, but it is known that the amount involved was large. This deal is an evidence of the confidence that the president of the Saratoga Association has in the rehabilitation of racing.

PLAUDIT COMING BACK TO AMERICA.

New York, July 2.—John Madden has decided to recall Plaudit, the Hymar—Cinderella stallion to whom the American turf is indebted for King James, from France. Plaudit was sent abroad last fall when racing on this side of the Atlantic looked rather uncertain. Mr. Madden thought at the time of getting a stud together in France, as Herman B. Duryea and Mr. Belmont were planning to do. Since the development by King James of champion-ship of the Kentucky has decided that Plaudit will be more useful to him at Hamburg Place.

HORSES COMING FROM FAR WEST.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 2.—Two carloads of the best horses that raced at the recently ended meeting at the Fair Grounds have been shipped to Fort Erie, Ont. In the shipment were J. H. Brandon's Booger Red, Cabin and Fred Bent; L. T. Lee & Sons' Blagg, Salvage, Coppers, King of Yolo and Knight Deck; and J. O. Holder's Hazlet and Strike Out.

FASHION PLATE GOOD RACER

MANNER IN WHICH HE WON YESTERDAY IMPRESSES NEW YORKERS.

Colored Rider Who Shared Honors with the Horse Has Close Call Later in Day—King

James Doing Well.

New York, July 2.—The Oneck Stable's colt, Fashion Plate, and the colored rider, Henry Smith, made a winning combination in the Sir Walter Handicap at Sheepshead Bay today. Horse and rider covered themselves with glory and 8,000 spectators bestowed on them generous applause. The Woolsthorpe three-year-old made important weight concessions to the quartet of good horses of more mature age opposed to him and vanquished them so decisively that race-goers were ready to acclaim him a horse of stake caliber. It is now conceded that had Fashion Plate not been pulled up at the start he might have placed in the Suburban. Messrs. Knapp and Karriek, respectively owner and trainer of the colt, were the happiest men at the track, and were particularly anxious that one should overlook the really remarkable ride put up by Smith. The colored boy's day of triumph terminated inauspiciously when Coonskin, a starter in the last race, reared, fell and rolled over him while on her way to the post. The attending physician announced that beyond a few minor bruises Smith escaped injury, but it looked like a close call.

This was an extra day of racing with a special overnight card that filled well. The weather conditions were ideal, the track was exceedingly fast and the biggest off-day crowd of the year was in attendance. Results were somewhat away from a form viewpoint, Black Mate, at 40 to 1, inaugurating a series of upsets with the first race. The other winning outsiders were Tim Pippin, Evening Song and Beauclere. The sudden recovery of speed by the last-named, coincident with heavy backing, created some surprise. In none of his previous races this summer had Beauclere been able to raise a respectable gallop. The upsetting of H. Smith by Coonskin caused a delay of ten minutes in the starting of the last race. J. Creevy was finally substituted. Betting shifted materially during this interval, the closing odds against Niagara, the winner and probably a real clicker, receding to 3 to 1, while St. Dunstan was backed down to 8 to 5.

It is rumored that Eddie Dugan will go to Canada to ride in the near future. S. C. Hildreth stated today that King James has fully recovered and is in grand form, but will be reserved for the Saratoga meeting. Seventeen racers in training, belonging to the Silverbrook Stable, at present in charge of Thomas Welsh, have been turned over to R. Miller to train. W. S. Fanshawe is the owner of this big racing establishment.

BRIGHTON BEACH WILL GET DATES.

Its Obligations to Horsemen Must Be Discharged as Necessary Preliminary, However.

New York, July 2.—Will there be a fall meeting at Brighton Beach race track? The fences have been torn down, the field stand and stables have been carted away and a part of the infield has been filled in, preparatory to the laying out of building lots. The big steel grandstand, the comparatively new clubhouse and the paddock, with its stalls and jockey buildings, are intact. The track covered with grass and weeds, simply needs the harrows.

"In ten days the Brighton track can be made ready for racing," said a man close to William A. Engeman yesterday. "We can put up new fences and harrow the course without much trouble and expense. But you can say that the Brighton Beach Racing Association has not decided yet whether there will be a meeting this year or not. It is simply a question of policy. We haven't made a definite application to the Jockey Club for fall dates, but the other track owners have been informed that Brighton has not been wiped off the racing map and that under certain circumstances a meeting at the Beach can be easily arranged."

"There's just another thing that cuts a figure. The Brighton Beach Racing Association is in better financial shape now than it was a year ago. Of the $35,000 owed to the horsemen at the end of last summer's meeting, the greater part has been paid and the entire debt will soon be wiped out. There was never a thought of not making good all obligations to the horsemen who won purses at Brighton. Other good work has been done since last year, and it begins to look better for the old track every day. But, as I said before, nothing has been positively decided."

The race track owners have been discussing dates for the fall meetings for a week past. From what has been learned a harmonious policy will prevail, and if Brighton really wants to race, the popular track will receive an allotment. But all obligations to the horsemen must be made good first. "When the season closed last fall," said a prominent race track owner, "Mr. Engeman doubtless believed that there would be no more racing, so he proceeded to dismantle his track at Brighton, with the idea of cutting the property into building lots. Then came several court decisions which have given a new lease of life to the racing game, and as the sport is going along smoothly with most encouraging prospects for the future, Mr. Engeman probably feels that it is a mistake to withdraw Brighton from the circuit. In years gone by Brighton Beach was a big money-maker, which Mr. Engeman has not forgotten."

It is said that the schedule of fall dates will be announced shortly and that, if necessary, the season will be extended to November 15, the last legal day of racing in the State of New York.

KEEN INTEREST IN FORT ERIE OPENING.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 2.—The keenest interest continues to be manifested locally in the running of the Canadian Derby on Monday at Fort Erie's opening. It is the principal topic of conversation at the local sporting resorts. The meeting here for the first time of horses that have been racing in the west and those that follow the Canadian circuit invests the races with greater interest than would otherwise prevail.

Olimbala seems to be the general favorite of those looked upon as likely starters. There is a lot of talk, however, about Plate Glass, W. J. Young's entry. Jeff Bernstein, Marse Abe and Plute will all have followings. All the Derby candidates will be at the track by tomorrow, and the odds are greater than ever before and the indications are that every record Fort Erie has known will be broken.

DANNY MAHER NEED NOT WORRY.

London, Eng., July 2.—Danny Maher, who is talking of retiring from the saddle, has achieved greater success and popularity in England than any other rider from America, not even excepting Tod Sloan. The performances of Sloan some years ago were astonishing to Englishmen, but Sloan could not endure here while Maher has had greater success year after year. This is due in great part to Maher's adaptability and thrift, and the American is now a thoroughgoing Briton. Maher has made a great fortune for a jockey and will not need to worry over his enforced retirement.

TEXT OF THE BOASBERG DECISION.

New Orleans, La., July 2.—Here is the text of the decision handed down by the Supreme Court of Louisiana in quashing the indictment in the case of Mark Boasberg, who had been indicted for violation of the Locke law:
"The question presented is simply whether the district attorney may recuse himself on any ground other than one of those prescribed by said act of 1877, herein above quoted. We do not think that the can. The grounds of recusal prescribed for judges in the said act have been held to be limitative, and we think that on the same principle the similar grounds prescribed for district attorneys are in like manner limitative.
"The recusal of the district attorney in this case not having been founded on any one of the grounds thus prescribed, was null and void. The district attorney was, therefore, not recused; and since he was not recused, nor sick nor absent, the judge was without authority, under act 74 of 1886, to appoint an attorney to act in his place, and, in consequence, the appointment of Mr. Adams was a nullity and the information filed by him was a nullity."
After discussing that clause in the bill of rights which provides that "prosecutions shall be by indictment or information," the court said that this provision is intended to secure the citizen against prosecution by private citizen, by governor, or judge or any authority other than a grand jury or a district attorney.

"To the grand jury and to the district attorney, and not to popular clamor or to the executive, is confided by the constitution the discretion of determining when the citizen shall be brought before the court. That discretion the district attorney must, upon occasion, exercise and not divest himself of, as he would his coat. And the very time when the policy of our law, as embodied in the constitution and the statutes, requires that he should not shirk this responsibility, is when there is popular clamor, or if judge or executive should ever undertake to dictate in matters of criminal prosecution."

The court said that it was glad that it did not have to pass upon the question of whether the system of betting employed was violative of the Locke law.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Communications without names and addresses will not be noticed nor answered. No reply will be sent by mail and none by wire unless reply payment is made at time of wiring query.

M. O. F., Rockford, Ill. It was Tom Cogan, not Dan, that beat Dick Welles at Washington Park. It was in the Kenwood Stakes, July 1, 1902.

W. J. K., Chicago. Jockey Otto Wonderly died at Memphis, Tenn., Sunday, April 2, 1905, from injuries received in a fall from the horse Myopia.

A. S., St. Louis, Mo. In the Club Members' Handicap at St. Louis Fair Grounds in 1892, Wadsworth was first at 3 to 1 and Aloha second at 2 to 1, the latter being the favorite.

Joe P., Chicago. Do not know whether Lucien Appleby is living or dead, or where he is located if living. He was a chestnut horse by St. George, a Levee and a fine race horse as a two and three-year-old, winning many races over Chicago tracks. Do not know of a Lucy Appleby.

RACE TRACK BETTING NOT SINFUL.

Catholic Clergyman of British Columbia Gives Clear-Headed Decision on Subject.

Victoria, B. C., July 2.—Race track betting, which is meeting with opposition by local protestant clergymen, has gained unexpected support from Roman Catholic authority. It has been pronounced neither sinful nor objectionable to the Jesuit Society. Whether or not attendance at the races and patronage of the betting ring were regarded with disfavor by the Catholic as well as Protestant churches has been actively debated during the past few days. The matter was finally referred for a decision to the Jesuit Fathers, and after consideration of all the issues involved, Father O'Reilly handed down his answer.

"Horse racing is not a sin," says the opinion. "nor is attendance at horse races. You may all go to the races who like and enjoy them as innocent relaxations and interesting sport. Nor is betting upon a horse race, or betting generally, a sin in itself. Betting is quite unobjectionable if a man risks only his own money which he does not especially require. There are many cranks in this world who see harm in everything. If you have $5 which you do not especially require there is no harm in your wagering that money against another man's $5 on a horse to see which will win. This form of amusement is not sinful.

"Servant girls, however, stenographers and those in receipt of only small salaries should not bet. And betting may become a sin under certain circumstances. There are many contingent circumstances to be taken into account. If a man risks the wages needed for the support of his wife and family, it is wrong. And if you have the money with which to bet, there may be danger of acquiring a passion for gambling, or some other vice, or a saloon there is danger of acquiring a passion for drink. If you think you are in danger of doing this it is wrong to bet.

Betting once in a while is not a sin. It is when risked money becomes the family or any one else that it is wrong. All depends upon a man bet and where he gets his money. God never intended anyone not to enjoy innocent amusement."

BROTHER TO T. S. MARTIN THE STAR.

New York, July 2.—The sale of yearlings was continued at the Fasig-Tipton Co.'s Sheephead Bay paddocks, today, consignments from the Daytona, Meadowbrook, Adelbert and Ellerslie Studs being offered. Thirty-six head were sold for a total of $2,020, the average per head being slightly in excess of $250.

W. Garth paid the biggest price, $1,250, for a brother to T. S. Martin. D. Dunlop secured what was generally considered a bargain in the Ormus—Hoodoo colt, by Tithonus—Musical Slipper, another good looking in the Tithonus—Musical Slipper yearling for $800. Those that brought $500 or over were:

NOTES OF THE TURF.

George Odum has been engaged to train Henry T. Oxnard's horses.
Barney Schreiber had ninety-three foals at Woodlands Farm this year.
William Lakeland's mare, Francolin, was mated with The Picket this year.

Jockey F. Woodton, who was injured at the Ascot meeting, has recovered from the effects of his mis hap.
The stable of racers formerly campaigned by J. B. Dunn is now the property of Albertson Bros. of Montana.
Heine Radtke, brother of Herman Radtke, is probably the lightest rider on the American turf. He tips the scales at fifty-eight pounds.

Jack Davidson, a former employee of the St. Louis tracks, died this week at Oklahoma City. He had recently been in the employ of Milt Mooney, a racing official at minor meetings.

Frank Gardner's Statesman has been turned out at the breeding farm of W. S. Diffenderfer, near Baltimore, and it is thought that he may train again next season. If he fails to stand training he will go into the stud.

It was claimed that Beau Brummel's bleeding in the third race at Latonia Thursday was caused by an injury to the nose, caused by swerving into the fence at the start. The bleeding continued for some time after the finish of the race.

AUGUST BELMONT AFTER EPSOM DERBY.

Three Yearlings That He Is About to Ship Abroad Are Eligible for Great English Classic.

New York, July 2.—The three yearlings August Belmont has decided to ship to England to race next season under the management of trainer Watson are colts by Rock Sand, out of Beladane, Tea's Over and Orienta. Beladane is the Octagon—Bella Handicap winner which won the Suburban Handicap of 1905. Her colt by Rock Sand is her second foal. Her first was by Meddler. The Rock Sand—Tea's Over colt is a half-brother to the famous King Eric horses, Lord Wells and Dick Welles. The Rock Sand—Orienta colt is a half-brother to Okenite and Oleno.

The three youngsters Mr. Belmont will race abroad are the best lookers among his yearlings, and they are all in the Epsom Derby of 1911. Mr. Belmont sent the favorite for the Derby of 1908 to the post in the Nursery Stud-bred Octagon colt, Norman II. He is exceedingly ambitious to win that race with a home-bred horse.

The yearlings Thomas Welsh will train for Mr. Belmont number twenty, and they are a carefully selected lot. Welsh has concluded his arrangement with the chairman of the Jockey Club and will break the Nursery yearlings at Saratoga. It is possible that he may sell a few after he breaks them.

Welsh's arrangement with Mr. Belmont will not make it necessary for him to abandon the Newcastle Stable horses. He will keep the Newcastle horses and perhaps take over some others.

The Newcastle Stable, which is now owned by Mr. Welsh, Andrew Miller and Francis C. Bishop, will race half a dozen or more two-year-olds next season. These youngsters were bred at the Millstream Stud, and most of them are by the French stallion, Adam, now standing in Hungary.

ROYALTY AT THE ASCOT MEETING.

London, Eng., July 2.—Tickets for the royal enclosure at Ascot are eagerly sought after and were scarce before Ascot opens the lord chamberlain has a hard time of it refusing the thousands who think or pretend to think they have a right to them. This year the line was drawn more stringently than ever.

Ascot is the royal meeting and racing is the king's favorite sport. There are many public functions at which he is the central figure. He knows it and likes it, but he goes racing to see and not to be seen. Last year there were too many beautifully dressed ladies who turned their backs to the race course and kept their glasses fixed immovably upon the royal box. These are to be eliminated as far as possible in the future.

Royal Ascot has an original right to its title, the meet having been founded by a royal duke, "Butcher" Carlisle. Though the first issue of the Racing Calendar, dated 1727, records certain events at Ascot, it was not till 1825 that the state procession was instituted. From that time on it has been Ascot's distinctive feature.

To be asked to be one of the royal house party at Windsor for the week is, of course, the great thing, but that is only for a very few. Tickets for the lawn of the royal enclosure are probably the most coveted tickets for any social function of the season. This year there were 2,000 more applications than in 1908.

The royal procession consists of eight carriages, each drawn by four horses, containing the king and queen and their guests, and two pair horsed carriages carrying the ladies in waiting. The four-horsed carriages are large open vehicles known as Windsor landaus. Postillions, equerries and outriders all wear the royal scarlet livery. The spectacle is one of the prettiest pieces of pageantry to be seen in London, and given fine weather is enough in itself to draw the town quite irrespective of the racing.
